

Czecho-Slovak Troops Taking Oath of Allegiance; Varied Views From Here and Overseas

© U. S. U.

THE CZECHO-SLOVAK national army troops taking the oath of allegiance and fidelity to the government at Prague. The Czecho-Slovak Republic was accorded recognition by the United States

© U. S. U.

GOATS ARE the latest fad at Miami; it is not unusual to see fashionable women promenade the Florida boardwalks with little "billy goats" tucked away carefully in their arms. Miss Virginia Hylan, of New York, and Mrs. Newman Samuel, Cincinnati, with their pets

© I. P. S.

COUNTESS GRAZIELLA CARTELLI, of Rome, arriving in New York on the liner Dante Alighieri for a visit to the United States. The Countess is noted in Italian court circles for her charm and beauty.

THE SINKING of the army transport Covington, formerly the Hamburg-American liner Cincinnati, which was torpedoed the night of July 1 by a German submarine when en route to the United States without passengers or troops. This photograph has been withheld by the censor till now

THE TORPEDOED COVINGTON, towed for 100 miles by three Allied tugs, finally went under. The view shows the transport's captain and members of the crew in a lifeboat leaving the sinking ship. They were picked up by a destroyer.

W. N. U. Photo

AS SOON AS the United States entered the war Earl Caddox, champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler, enlisted and went to France to fight as a sergeant in the "Immortals" at Montmorency.

DEPUTIES OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE attending the opening of the income tax school, which started in the Federal Building yesterday morning. After "graduation" from the school they will be sent out to the various sections of the city to impart their knowledge and extend their help to taxpayers generally in the preparation of income tax returns.

JAMES E. (TED) MEREDITH, world's greatest middle-distance runner and world's record holder in the mile, is seen here in his racing uniform.